Last year was another landmark for CASA as we completed 70 years of remarkable journey by serving the poor and needy people of the country irrespective of caste, creed, colour and political affiliation. I salute the leaders who served this institution with passion and sense of service. I also record my gratitude and appreciation to all our friends who associated with the work and life of CASA in enabling us to reach the epoch and credible journey of 70 years.

We had a challenging year as CASA was trying to overcome the pending FCRA renewal. We are thankful to the Lord for his mercy as finally we were granted renewal in the month of February 2018. I am thankful to the friends who helped us at the time of struggle to overcome. We are thankful to Government of India for recognising the service CASA has offered in the field of humanitarian Aid and sustainable development and granting us the FCRA renewal.

In the present context, the world is facing extreme challenges in field of climate change, communal conflict, gender disparities and ever growing social and economic inequalities. Within our own country, we face the similar challenges. We need to act to resolve these issues along with the people who are at margin. Apart from this, currently I am extremely concerned with farmer’s distress, atrocities against the women, dalits and tribals. CASA has contributed through its projects in helping the communities in distress to overcome such issues to a great extent. We have also enabled people to link with Government schemes to get several entitlements. We shall continue with our efforts in dealing with structural poverty in future with same passion and energy.

I am thankful to the friends of CASA who have travelled with us to this landmark distance. I do acknowledge and thank Government of India and State Government for the support. We are grateful to our Resource Partners for their support and solidarity especially during difficult times of the year. We value our association with partner organisations and communities we work with. I am thankful to the Officers of CASA and members of the Board and zonal committees for their guidance. I place on record my thanks and deep sense of appreciation to the staff members of CASA for their hard work and commitment.

We are committed towards life in fullness for everyone and shall strive forward in making this a reality.

Thank you.

CASA, UNICEF – Department of Disaster Management, Government of West Bengal, State Inter Agency Group and its district level lead organisations took the initiative to start discussion on ‘Child Centered Disaster Risk Reduction’ for Government Officials of Department of Disaster Management as well as for the District IAG members. Capacity Building programmes at four Agro Climatic Zones of West Bengal will be conducted. Between May 2017 to December 2017, CASA took the responsibility to lead and organize capacity building programme at Northern Bengal covering six districts from North Plain region namely Alipurduar, Jalpaiguri, Cooch Bihar, Malda, North Dinajpur and South Dinajpur in coordination with respective other IAG member organizations and District Administrations.

CASA supported by four partners jointly organized a three-day residential program on District Level Networking meeting of Dooars region with discussion on disaster preparedness and review on JRNA tools & Capacity building of DMFT with 38 participants. The program was conducted at CASA Resource Centre Saontalpur during 2 – 4 February 2018 with an objective of network building among the NGOs of Dooars about pre and post Disaster preparedness. Create awareness about JRNA Tool by holding discussions to deal with threats of disaster, educate them about disaster management and also identify potential resources that can play an important role in the planning process.

Tea gardens of North Bengal

CASA is mainly working in the closed and sick tea garden and forest areas. The thrust issues are:

a. Capacity building on disaster preparedness
b. Sustainable livelihood practices by promoting kitchen garden to ensure nutritional supplement
c. Climate Change and Disaster risk reduction with focus on search and rescue operation during emergency
d. Gender mainstreaming, violence against women and human trafficking
e. Human and Animal conflict- through collective action with networks

Sunderbans of East Bengal

As Sundarban is the most affected area of Climate Change in Bengal, CASA has addressed these issues

a. Capacity enhancement through technical knowledge on use of the available resources and preservation and promotion of indigenous variety of seeds
b. Alternative sustainable livelihood practices has been initiated like pisciculture, animal husbandry, initiation of kitchen garden
c. Climate Change and Disaster risk reduction through mangrove plantation and protection
d. Gender mainstreaming, violence against women and human trafficking
e. Practice for renewable energy with focus on solar energy

Flood Relief Program in Kishanganj District

Kishanganj was one of the worst affected districts in Bihar which was reeling under heavy flood as incessant rains overnight led to overflowing of major rivers in the region. A majority of the population in this region is involved in agriculture.

The proposed food items were decided based on the current situation of the affected communities and their most urgent needs. The target communities were displaced and living in shelter camps for many days.

In 2017, Odisha was hit heavily by flash flood after incessant rainfall for more than 24 hours. The two most heavily affected districts were from Northern Odisha - Rayagada and Kalahandi. The Nagavali and Kalyani rivers in Rayagada district overflowed damaging bridges and disrupting roads and railway connectivity. The flood took 4 lives and more than 6,000 people were evacuated as dozens of villages were submerged in flood water. Five bridges, two railway stations and four roads washed off in the unforeseen calamity. Odisha Disaster Rapid Action force (ODRAF) was deployed to rescue and relief operation.

CASA with local partners conducted Joint Rapid Need Assessment (JRNA) process in the district.

Having 30-35 years of experience in Odisha on Disaster Response and Management, CASA’s trained volunteers from the community actively engaged in rescue and relief operations.

Teams were deployed at Rayagada to finalise the distribution area. Villages identified, situation re-assessed and beneficiaries selected.

Discussion on Meghalaya Periodical Plan

CASA Coordinator for North-East India Lesehu Mehru convened a meeting at Shillong office where five members from partner organisations attended the meeting. The meeting discussed the periodical action plan emphasised on the areas of intervention, key community issues and setting its objectives to address the issues.

Enhancing Community Capacities in Assam

CASA North-East India regional office in Guwahati, Assam organised a workshop on the implementation of Enhancing Communities capacities to strengthen economic and social status with dignity, justice and peace. Along with the implementing partners from five northeastern states (Assam, Manipur, Meghalaya, Mizoram and Nagaland), the workshop was held for two days at Mission Campus, Guwahati. The purpose of the workshop was to discuss and understand developmental issues and opportunities in northeast India and contextualise in the implementation of new developmental goals and objective.

The director of CASA Dr Sushant Agrawal emphasised on the importance of livelihood issues in northeast and articulated that transforming lives of those who need the most and restoring their dignity should be the immediate agenda of CASA.

During workshop the queries of key issues related to project such as baseline survey, monitoring and evaluation were elucidated by Head of Program and his team. Hence the workshop enlightened the overall objective and procedures which should help in effective implementation of the project.

Expertise consultation meet on Disaster Management in Nagaland

A two-day consultation meet on disaster management and organisational development was organised in which CASA staff shared their expert opinion on scope and prospect of incorporating disaster management within the fabric of their programs in north-east India which undergoes heavy rains and flooding every year in India. Further consultation meets will be held on the approval of the approach.
Assam was under heavy spells of rainfall which led to severe flooding affecting around 4.8 lakh people. People lived in 954 relief camps in dearth of shelter and food. Thirty-one of the 33 districts of the State were affected by the floods. CASA’s response was in the worst-hit district.

A 5-day RIAP exposure visit to Bangladesh was organised wherein the respective countries participants explored project areas of CCDB in drought-hit Naogaon district. Under poverty map of the country, majority of the population with abysmal literacy are engaged in agriculture. The teams interacted with the community in Manda village where the locals shared their acquired expertise on Drought Risk Reduction (DRR), usage of bio char, retaining rain water for food security and livelihood development through fish culture, duck rearing and vegetable growing, utilising local resources and promoting natural resource management.

On the next visit to Kishoregonj village, the teams participated in a school program called Climate Change Brigade (CCB). The students emphasized the role of climate change adaption through constant engagement and awareness building campaigns. Children participated in knowledge based debate program, painting and drawing competitions. Exposure visit team also enlightened to be a part of the initiative addressing Climate Change by the School Management.

Kathmandu on October 23-26, 2017
A 4-day RIAP workshop focused on climate change and conflict dedicated its discussion to understand the nexus between the two and to explore the doable actions at the community, project and policy levels. The secondary objective was to recommend whether RIAP should consider widening its scope to embed "climate induced conflict" if so, then how.

Distinguished professional having international repute helped participants, developmental practitioner from four respective organization in India, Bangladesh, Sri Lanka and Nepal through a highly informative interactive session. Each organization, through case study, shared the conflict of different environment. It came out that mostly the demand of natural resource related to the respective country is rising.

The workshop concluded with plethora of ideas, thoughts and recommendation on future course of action for developmental initiative among RIAP members.

New Delhi on March 5-7, 2018
A localisation workshop was held with four RIAP agencies moderated by Shudhanshu Shekhar Singh. In the crisis of shrinking funds within humanitarian aid sector, workshop discussed on the localisation and how could the southern actors become the major role players when it comes to crisis and funding. There was substantial discussion on data transparency through International Aid Transparency Initiative (IATI) and Financial Tracking System (FTS).

Group discussions were held to analyse the progress made on the Grand Bargain and Charter for Change commitments and the challenges facing the local and national actors. The participants developed a roadmap to address these problems. They also agreed to work on a RIAP Charter which would be duly approved by the management of the four organisations, and then shared widely as an advocacy tool.

Local Capacities for Peace

LCP project is a contribution towards the peace building and conflict resolution, which begins with an analysis of the environment and looks at which groups are in conflict. Activities are mostly focused on empowering youths in gender justice and human rights.

YOUTH CONVENTION

A Youth Convention at the South Asian level was held in Kathmandu, Nepal from 18th-20th January, 2017. This Convention was the highlight of a three-year process of LCP’s engagement in youth leadership work. Diverse gathering from different South Asian countries representing their unique culture offered a learning opportunity for the participants and insights on the realities, issues and challenges in their respective regions.

One of the major recommendations was to organize National level sharing and learning workshops to share experiences and foster volunteerism.

Youth steering committee which closely monitors this interventions has also strongly recommended having national level programmes for Youths to develop their analytical skills, understanding on gender issues and need of understanding cross cultural challenges and issues. LCP Coordination committee has now decided to go for such National level sharing & learning workshops in each of the participating member countries.

Core Program

The overall goal of the project was formation and strengthening of people’s organisations, holding issue-based workshops and leadership development programs for youths. The people were made aware about the drought relief programs and where to approach. Various campaigns on land, forest and livelihood issues were conducted at micro and meso levels. One of the unique elements within the programs is awareness on disaster prone areas through Disaster Risk Reduction (DRR) process - educating people on Climate Change. Sapling plantation drives were conducted in Telangana. Addressing Gender Justice remains one of the core interventions wherein training and sensitisation workshops are held specially for women members. CASA in coordination with Inter Agency Group - Tamil Nadu undertook drought assessment in Tirupur and Dindigul districts of Tamil Nadu. The CASA Tamil Nadu State Secretariat (TNSS) also participated in a state level consultation on drought management in July 2017.
